I'm laughing at all the "I'm tired of memes we need to organize" motherfuckers and then they try to organize on discord and shit like that. bbroos you're not antifa you don't get a free pass, figure it out already. Organize offline ya dumb fucks, if you communicate online use fucking codes. It's basic security. Don't be stupid, don't get shut down and don't get infiltrated by alphabet agency douchebags

Signal and other enceyption apps were specifically designed for dissedents being censored by fascist governments

SecureDrop

Created by Aaron Swartz and currently managed by the Freedom of the Press Foundation SecureDrop allows any organization to securely and anonymously accept documents.

<https://securedrop.org/>

IPFS

The InterPlanetary File System is a censorship-resistant way to publish content on the internet without having to rely on a central provider. When used with the Tor Browser it's anonymous too.

Bitmask

Bitmask is a cross-platform VPN built specifically for activists. Most people use a VPN to create a secure connection to protected infrastructure: for example to access production servers. Some commercial VPNs are designed to allow people to access streaming services in other countries. In both cases anti-surveillance isn't the goal; they tend to have centralized architectures where traffic travels through servers monitored and controlled by a single company.

Signal is compromised, you can't contact anyone that's not on your contact list that you let signal have full access too. Think about it.

Imagine still using Google or Apple and thinking something like Signal on top of it makes any difference at all.

To be fair, I can send messages to non-contacts using Whisperfish (Sailfish OS Signal port based on libsignal-c-protocol), so the issue you're seeing may be a limitation of the Android or iOS app, whichever you use.

Fantastic informed rebuttal. You've convinced me.

Anyone bothering to do any research is aware Signal is the gold-standard for encrypted messaging.

Again, I'm assuming you're well-intentioned and not deliberately passing on shitty disinformation to fuck with people's privacy and safety.

<https://restoreprivacy.com/secure-encrypted-messaging-apps/telegram/>

Highligts of why it is not fine:

Registration requires a phone number
E2E encryption only for Secret Chats
Has not shared any Transparency Reports
Servers are not open source
Logs IP Address and other user data

Discord was a honeypot. I don't know why anyone would use it. It's basically IRC with a centralized controller who's logging everything to use against you later. Did everyone stop using IRC for any particular reason?

I was more early 2000's (first had high speed internet in my dorm in 01). I remember being queued on a DCC bot for days to download a single episode of a TV show. Especially if it was a preair rip from a satellite stream to the affiliates (there was a term for them but I can't remember it off the top of my head).

Then BitTorrent came along and made IRC practically obsolete (at least for file sharing) practically overnight. Which is funny, because the first BitTorrent client was pretty shitty. Then the Azureus client came along and was so much better.

It's nice the internet became more user-friendly, because we can have places like this with basically no barrier to entry. But I miss the old days where it took a certain amount of knowledge to do some pretty cool stuff.

For all my frens,

When Pedes/Mods for years be like, "Join on Discord"; me be like "much to learn, you have youngiings".

Some of us have first-hand already been through those levels/experiences.

Most Pedes are realizing a few things on this list; as they are done to more people. When you're at some level, things above your current level might seem "crazy" because while books/movies etc are written about things like that, they don't know anyone irl whom it happens to, or the few people which it makes the news "had it coming/deserved it/etc."

I made this list the other week:

ROUGH LEVELS OF LEFTIE & CORRUPT VIOLENCE:

- Level 0.) Normieland, head in sand, ya some stuff is crooked, and government is corrupt; but it's random and just part of life sometimes.
- Level 1.) eg "Twitter jail" or spez's editing, is level 1 commie & corrupt censorship/comms interference.
- Level 2.) De-platforming.
- Level 3.) Kancel kulture, firing from job, kicked from school, etc. More aggressively removing income & social network is level 3.
- Level 4.) Vandalizing/destruction of property/vehicles/digital property.
- Level 5.) Denying public / government services, utilities, and programs: DMV, Foodstamps, court, school, utilities, medicare/medical, mail, etc. Be them basic services, mandated services, or "benefits/application approval". Usually more, and more as time goes on.
- Level 6.) Having Lefties or corrupt physically attack (real direct, unexpected/ambush violence).
- Level 7.) Being $oros'd DA/lawyered in kangaroo court or FISA nonsense.
- Level 8.) Gym accidents, firey car crashes, death/kidnapping arckanicding of family/etc. Clandestine, ops. New random neighbors who's stories doesn't checkout.
- Level 9.) Having openly observable surveillance ops (eg helicopters flying overhead), "Vehicles" parked in line of sight
- Level 10.) Things like in the movie Enemy of the State are level 10 (of course real life is usually much slower paced than an action film most of the time);

- Above 10+) Umm Hello. So where ever, you are on this scale, or complaining about "Free Kyle at Level 7"; learn from us whom are further up the scale. Something every Pede should know, how these evil commies & corrupt operate. <https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Stasi#Zersetzung>

I would say lets set up our own service, just like TDW replaced reddit. My personal preference is something from the grounds up based on Jabber/XMPP protocol. Other alternatives include Mattermost or Elemental/Matrix based solutions. In all cases: It should be our own self-hosted server and/or decentralized network. The proposals above are just open-source software that can be used as part of "pede chat"

Or even GNU Social

BBS worked fine for a long time. It's the information transfer that's important not the emoji graphics or slick UI.

Whoever is funding this site: hey man, thanks for realizing, UNLIKE A LOT OF COMPLACENT RED STATERS HERE, that politics is downstream of culture.

So please start looking for investors into MAGA social networks.

We need moar.

Without the capacity to organize, we cannot do a damn thing.

And we can only organize once we own the networking platforms.

none of this should be a surprise.

Frankly I'm shocked and disappointed so many were still using Discord to do political shit up until now. We know years ago that the Discord dev team were radical Leftists. They've doxxed people and snooped on 'private' conversations in order to steal personal information about non-Leftist gamers a long time ago. I had thought this was common knowledge by now and anyone who still used Discord at all used it exclusively for gaming chat and knew not to use it for anything political or say anything compromising or personal on it.

ATTENTION PEDES: I need your help brainstorming clips, images, and themes for a "Rubicon Don" video, to capture the mood of the moment. Remember The Lion \(Trump Edit\) from 2016? That was an incredible video. Now, imagine if we remade it?

There is so much potential material to work with. BLM-style riots, the Kenosha incident, voter & election observer intimidation, election fraud denial, Shepard smugly censoring Trump's speeches, choice cuts from Trump's speeches, aerial views of Trump supporter gatherings, Trump inspecting the troops, etc. There's no way I'm not missing something, which is why I'm reaching out here.

Share every cool idea, theme, or footage that's on your mind. Let's theorycraft how to weave them all into a coherent video. Bonus tips for happenings that were memory-holed. Hopefully with our collective knowledge, we can come up with something awe-inspiring during these interesting times. This video will have no duds.

You really shouldn't be using discord.

They spammed everyone with messages about Burn Loot Murder and "white supremacy" just a few months back, I mean wasn't that enough of a clue as to what sort of organisation it was?

There is barely anyone coming into the Matrix server. Some people got banned and some didn't and thus they've fragmented us. We need an alternative for everyone and we need everyone still on Discord to join it.
